Automobiling has been responsible for many curious ideas in the way of coats, but one is a unique sample of the furrier's art. From cape to tail it is made of bares' ears, cunningly joined together. Twelve hundred bares were killed to produce this astonishing garment, which took three months to manufacture, one man being employed three days in cutting the ears from the skins. It has been especially treated to render it waterproof. Considering the immense amounts of labor expended on it, it seems cheap at the price, $100, which is asked for it.

Even if you are a bedridden invalid there is always something you can do to make others happier, and that is the surest way to attain happiness for yourself.—Boston Beacon.

Hawaii Islands and the Philippines.

Having had some travel in the Hawaiian Islands as well as in the Philippines, and having been asked many questions about them, I take this method of answering. The question today is being propounded whether or not the Philippine Islands will ever repay our government for what she has invested. There is no country today that the Philippines stand second to in the way of agriculture and fruits, and besides they have great mineral resources there and their fruits are rare and in the top markets of the world. But in regard to the government: I don't think Uncle Sam ever thought of being repaid by the revenues of the islands The whole aim of the government was to get control of Asiatic waters that she might open up a trade with Asia, Africa and all the eastern countries and have these islands for coaling stations. Of course it is a well-known fact that the greater a country's trade is, the greater its wealth. I think expansion that does not open up a trade for a country is a disadvantage, but when it opens up a trade like the Philippines, it is an advantage. Of course there are many readers of this paper who will not see this in the same light that I do, but we all agree on some occasions to disagree and still be friends.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awaked in the middle of night by a whoop from one of the children. Croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is to be lost in the case of burglars. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better and doesn't cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Stanford.

SINGLE blessedness for young maidens who wish to retain their positions in the postoffice department is, in effect, the order issued by Postmaster General Payne. The ruling provides that young women who are now in the employ of the department and who marry in the future, must resign their positions. The civil service law requires that after changing her name by marriage a woman clerk must be reappointed under her new name, and throughout the offices there has been talk during recent years of passing orders forbidding the reappointment of such persons. Now it is determined not to do so. It will remain to be seen whether the women prefer office to husbands.

THE Democratic Executive Committee at its meeting at Frankfort Tuesday called a State primary for May 9, 1903. Chairman Young and two members of the committee, to be selected by him, are a subcommittee to arrange details and apportion the expense among candidates offering. But one committeeman, Mr. Meacham, opposed the primary. There is no doubt that primaries are the fairest and squarest methods of nominating candidates and we see no reason why a State primary should be an exception. It will be pretty costly to the boys that want office, but if they can stand it the rest of us should have no trouble in doing so.

THE State Board of Election Commissioners met in Frankfort and canvassed the vote cast in the recent Kentucky election. The compilation shows a democratic plurality of 35,376. The total vote cast was 229,499, a decrease of nearly 200,000 from the vote cast for president in 1900. Congressman Gilbert's plurality is 2,073. Wm. Lowen, the prohibition candidate for Congress, got 435 votes in the district. Lincoln county heads the list for him—81 votes Hon. Vincent Boreing's plurality is 8,012.

VITAL statistics collected for the 12th census go to show that males are becoming weaker physically and more susceptible to disease and death while females are growing stronger and constitutionally better equipped for the battle of life. Still more surprising is the large number of suicides among men. In the census year there were 5,498 suicides reported. Of these 4,313 were males and 1,185 females. Woman seems no longer to be the weaker vessel.

THE Woman's Christian Temperance Union is in a quandary. It wants to hold its next National convention in Milwaukee, but finding no public hall without a saloon in that stronghold of brewers, it is inclined to seek elsewhere for a meeting place. "The beer that made Milwaukee famous" seems to be sold everywhere in the city.

FOOTBALL fatalities and accidents have been many this season, and the list, as well as it could be compiled, shows an increase over previous years. Ten deaths have been reported, and more are usually heard of before the end of the year. Serious accidents number 70, but many limbs are broken and no report is made of them.

GEN. MARCUS J. WRIGHT is trying to gain publicity by strongly denying that Booker T. Washington dined at the White House with President Roosevelt and family. His long silence on the subject will make many suspect both the truthfulness of his claim and the object of his rushing into print.

HOW is this for convenience? Dean Baker P. Lee, pastor of Christ's Episcopal church of Lexington, has had placed in his church an instrument by which his sermons may be heard by telephone in any private residence in the city and county.

A DEMOCRATIC plurality of 35,376 isn't bad for Kentucky in an off year like this. If all of the democrats had voted, the plurality would have doubtless reached 100,000. Bully for the greatest and grandest State on the map.

AFTER a rupture lasting 2,393 years Persia and Greece have made up and diplomatic relations between them have been restored. We suppose the last thousand or so generations have forgotten what the fuss begun about.

THREE hundred shoemakers who struck for higher wages in Philadelphia in 1786 were the first workingmen to adopt such tactics in this country. The first railroad strike occurred in 1877.

THE Atlanta Constitution talks horse sense when it says: Laying aside every weight that will hinder them, declining resolutely the men and measures that have only spelled disorganization and defeat in the past, holding fast to the faith that government should be by and for the people, administered on revenues raised solely for its support and guaranteeing in everything equal rights to all men and special privileges to none, the democratic party can make an issue and find leaders that will attract the majority of the voters of the nation and give a people's administration the right of way after 1904.

Our defeat in Kentucky may be charged up to the Debse brand of politics. Under this regime true and tried republicans have been snubbed, popular leaders relegated to private life, turncoat democrats and slick-headed dudes given all the fat jobs, veterans insulted and ignored and mullet heads put in the high places. Give us our old leaders, around whom we can rally and make a fight on principle, instead of for federal jobs, and we will regain what we have lost in old Kentucky.—Grayson Tribune. (republican.)

The Mt. Vernon Signal has this to say about a good friend of this paper: Bynam Carter, of Carterville, Garrard county, was here yesterday. Mr. Carter is a gentleman of the old school and one who has made a big success in saw milling. He, like other men, began business without capital many years ago, and by attention to business on a straight forward, honest basis, has today, real estate valued at more than $100,000. He is one man of whom no employee or his neighbors say a hard word. Bynam Carter is a man. Would that our country had more such.

Four milking cows a novel machine has been colled. It consists of a can, out of which a portion of the air is pumped, and table, to the end of which are fastened four small vessels in the form of cups. In these vessels the nipples to the cow's udder are placed and are held in position.

The can is opened as soon as the air is partially pumped out of it, and the milk is then naturally drawn from the udder into the space which is void of air. With the object of controlling the nipples and of seeing at all times that they are in proper position, the lower half of each cup in which they are placed is made of glass.

It was feared at first that the cows would object to being milked in this mechanical fashion, but they made no remonstrance, and a few even seemed highly pleased at being milked in this up-to-date style.

THE ladies of the Christian church took in over $25 at their exchange in Severance & Son's old store-room Wednesday. Mrs. George C. Givens, who managed the exchange, tells us that they will hold another Saturday, Dec. 6, and still another on the day before Christmas.

THE following from Wednesday's Courier-Journal has made the good citizens of Danville feel about as happy as mortals get: "The Southern Railway Company in Kentucky will begin the work of extending its line to Danville as soon as the right of way is secured. Amended articles of incorporation giving the road this right, were filed yesterday." There is every reason to believe that the road will be continued on toward Jellico and that it will come by Stanford. Our citizens should leave no stone unturned in their effort to have it do so.

IT looks like it is going to clear off at last.

THE executive committee of Lincoln county is called to meet in Stanford on Saturday, Nov. 29th at 1 o'clock P. M. R. C. Warren, chairman.

TO-DAY and to-morrow are the last days for paying State and county taxes before the 6 per cent. penalty is added. Better get a move on yourself.

STANFORD defeated Lancaster 10 to 0 in a game of football yesterday afternoon. There were a half dozen or more fights during the game but no body was seriously hurt.

THE C. W. B. M. will meet Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the lecture room of the Christian church instead of the following Wednesday. All members are earnestly requested to be present. Miss Anne H. Shanks.

THE Thanksgiving services at the Christian church yesterday were exceedingly interesting and enjoyable. All of the preachers made entertaining talks and the singing was unusually good. A collection of $9 was taken up, which will be given to the poor.

IT is expected that quite a number of our citizens will attend the performance of "Mr. Plaster, of Paris" at Danville Dec. 5. Of the many farce companies that are touring the country this season, there is none that has created such popular furore as "Mr. Plaster." *

THE college boys are preparing to extend a royal welcome to Hon. Henry Watterson when he comes to Danville Thursday next. The distinguished editor and lecturer will be the guest of Dr. Roberts and a committee of 40 students will meet him in ten carriages and escort him to the president's home. Extra seats have been provided, 40 being put on the opera house stage.

THE vocal contest at Walton's Opera House last night was a success in all the word implies and Manager E. H. has the thanks of the community for giving an entertainment so thoroughly enjoyable and elevating. The quartette singing was all good, but the judges, Mesdames J. W. Rider, of Mt. Vernon, B. N. Crume and J. H. Hoskinson, of Lebanon, thought the Flemingsburg quartette composed of T. F. Andrews, Robert Barbeson, Clyde Garr and Robert Weeden, the best and gave them the prize—$30 in gold. The other contesting quartettes were the ones from Harrodsburg, Danville, Hustonville, Richmond and Lancaster. Each was liberally applauded and each had friends who thought that their favorite "team" was bound to win. There were only three contestants for the $20 gold-piece offered for the best lady solist, viz: Misses Ethel Barnett, Richmond; Nell Warren, Stanford, and Grace Waddle, Somerset, and the first named won. Rev. O. M. Huey presented the prizes in a well-timed and well worded speech. Prof. L. R. Hughes was chairman and Miss Myrtle Abrams furnished splendid piano music at various times. Mr. Beazley will come out a few dollars ahead on his enterprise, but his share will not be as large as his friends would like for it to be.

OTTENHEIM.

Casper Abt is adding beauty to his old home, or in other words he is making a new house out of his old one. He has employed Tom Eads, of Maywood, to do the painting.

A curious freak of nature in the form of a chestnut tree is in full bloom near Garland James' on the Stanford and Ottenheim pike. The bloom looks as fresh as in springtime.

John Bowen, who resides on the head waters of Cedar Creek, tells us if the warm weather had continued much longer he would have raised another crop of strawberries, as he had lots of green ones.

Ottenheim can boast of one business man—Charles Enslin, who runs a farm, saw mill, tan yard and postoffice and is talking of putting in a blacksmith shop and hotel if the Louisville Southern comes through.

Miss Rebecca Mullins, the handsome young school teacher of Ottenheim, is preparing to have a school entertainment the last day of the term. We believe the trustees could do no better than to engage her services next year, as she has proven a splendid teacher.

If some of the bluegrass farmers who can't quite make both ends meet, would come up and see how well their German brethren are getting along, it would make their faces burn with shame, and that old phrase, "damn the Dutch," would soon drop out of existence.

MATRIMONIAL.

N. H. Plummer and Miss Lucinda Anderson were married at David Anderson's yesterday.

At Montgomery, Ind., John Powell, aged 76, and Miss Susie Smith, 16, were made one.

Charles W. Terbune, of Lexington, and Miss Scotta Walter, of Harrodsburg, were married yesterday.

James Coldiron, aged 18, and Miss Matilda Blanton, 14, celebrated Thanksgiving by getting married.

J. W. Price, the clever blacksmith, was married at W. H. Naylor's Wednesday to Miss Lillie May Naylor, an exceedingly pretty young lady.

Bishop Duncan, in his address before the Virginia Methodists, declared that, if the young men of the church only trusted the Almighty, they would marry no woman not a Methodist.

A resident of Washington State has written to the postmaster of Plymouth, Pa., for 500 "good-looking, healthy, poor girls," who are wanted as wives for the same number of "nice-looking, healthy young men of good habits."

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, of New Jersey, celebrated recently their golden wedding, on which occasion they issued the following bulletin: "Cross words spoken by either husband or wife, none; number of times the kitchen fire has had to be built, 18,263; number of times Mr. Dixon has built it, 18,263." That settles it. Mrs. Dixon had no occasion to speak cross words and her husband was too amiable to do so.

Tennyson's Vanity.

Charles Stewart, a British lawyer, published a volume of reminiscences and in it tells two stories about Tennyson, whom he found self conscious and accessible to flattery.

"A little niece of mine," he relates, "was one day standing beside his chair. He lifted her up and placed her on his knee for half a minute, and then he put her down, saying, 'Now you can say you have sat on Tennyson's knee.'"

On another occasion Tennyson was Jowett's guest at the Master's Lodge, Balliol, with a few other men, and after some good talk the poet had retired early to his room. Next morning at breakfast Tennyson was in a silent mood, but as the men were rising from the table he said: "Jowett, after I left you last night I wrote a few verses. I am not sure that I have ever done anything better. I will read them to you." Jowett, preparing to go off for his day's work, replied hastily: "Oh, no; thank you, Tennyson. I've no time for that sort of thing just now. I am very busy."

Sunday Ethics.

As grown up folks are divided on the question of what is proper and what is not proper to do on the Sabbath, perhaps two little girls, neighbors in West Eighty-second street, may be forgiven for a mild dispute overheard one recent Sunday afternoon. Both little maids were freshly dressed and were evidently out upon the steps for a breath of air after their dinners. The younger one, full of the joy of living, was working off some of her youthful spirit by walking up one side of the stone steps and down the other.

"Oh, you oughtn't to do that on Sunday. It isn't right, and your mamma won't like it. That's what they call breaking the Sabbath," said the older one, about twelve years old. She was standing still and looking very reproachfully at her companion.

"Well, I don't care. What's a girl to do outdoors Sunday?" petulantly asked the little girl.

"Why, nothing, of course. Just stand around."—New York Post.

Treatment of Face Moles.

A hairy mole which is still growing should be removed at once, even at the risk of some injury to the skin. It is now probably no more than a plexus of capillary vessels, with only a small supply of connective tissue. There is also a likelihood that it has not yet involved the skin. If this be its condition, the skin over the tumor may be reflected in flaps, and the tumor itself strangulated with ligature in one of the usual ways. The flaps should then be replaced, and the result will be a minimum of cicatrix and deformity.

But if the navus be allowed to grow it will become a large, highly vascular, erectile tumor, probably invading and involving the skin, liable to profuse hemorrhage if injured, yet still quite amenable to treatment, though of a less simple kind. The modes of treating navi are numerous and are continually increasing.

Stepped Against A Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove, which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well-known resident of Keilar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for bruises, cuts, burns and sprains. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

"I think the most penurious man I ever knew," remarked the man in the mackintosh, "was old Hewligus. He smoked his cigars to the last half inch, chewed the stumps and used the ashes for snuff. But he wasn't satisfied even then and gave up the habit."

"What for?" asked the man with the big Adam's apple.

"He couldn't think of any way to utilize the smoke."

One million persons, or more than one in every one hundred residents of the United States, are addicted to the use of morphine, according to a startling statement made public by a board of clergymen which appeals for help in its efforts to relieve the slaves of the habit. Of these, it is declared, the majority of the sufferers are found among physicians and the wealthier and better educated classes.

For A Bad Cold.

If you have a bad cold you need a good reliable medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to loosen and relieve it, and to allay the irritation and inflammation of the throat and lungs The soothing and healing properties of this remedy and the quick cures which it effects make it a favorite every where. Health is a magnet which irresistibly draws the man to the woman in life's mating time. Health does more than tint the skin with beauty; it puts music into the voice, buoyancy into the step, as well as happiness into the heart. A great many women covet beauty and are constantly seeking aids to beautify their faces, when woman first seek perfect health and all other charms shall be added to her.

There can be no general health for women while there is disease of the delicate womanly organism. The first step to perfect health is to cure womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I used four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shearer, of Mountboro, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Everyone who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. To-day I am cured. I tell everybody that Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me."

Mr. Herbert Putnam, librarian of Congress, who should be an authority in his profession, contributes to the current number of the New York Independent a brief statistical view of the progress made by the public libraries during the present year. The recorded libraries having 1,000 or more volumes, now number over 5,300 as compared with 4,000 six years ago and issue 48,000,000 volumes as against 12,000,000 volumes in 1876. The total of gifts of the year has reached $12,000,000, exclusive of 225 buildings, 27 sites for buildings and about 300,000 books and pamphlets. The extraordinary increase, of course, is largely due to Mr. Carnegie, who has contributed at least one-half of the total sum.

What to do Until the Doctor Arrives.

"One of my children was taken with cramp colic and suffered severely," says S. B. Elzee, of Monett, Mo. "I telephoned for a doctor, then gave a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a few minutes later a second dose. Before the doctor came the child was relieved."
